NATIONAL AUSTRALIA BANK LIMITED TO DELIST FROM THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

The National Australia Bank Limited (NAB) today notified the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) of its intention to withdraw the listing of its American Depositary Shares, evidenced by American Depositary Receipts, and the underlying ordinary shares from the NYSE.

On April 5, 2007, the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) published final rules that will make it easier for foreign companies, such as NAB, to terminate their SEC registration. These rules are expected to come into effect on June 4, 2007. The NAB proposes to deregister from the SEC once those rules become effective.

NAB Group's Chief Executive Officer John Stewart said delisting from the NYSE is part of the Group's ongoing program of streamlining operations and achieving cost reductions. The decision to delist follows the delisting from the Tokyo and London stock exchanges during the 2006 calendar year, and will also reduce administrative burdens and costs associated with the US compliance regime.

NAB remains fully committed to its staff and customers in the United States. NAB will continue to maintain its focus on good control and governance frameworks established with its compliance with SOX 404," he said.
