

Item 2.06 Material Impairments.

West Bank, a wholly-owned subsidiary of West Bancorporation, Inc., determined on August 15, 2008, that a material charge for impairment was required for two of its loans. A customer informed West Bank that he discovered over the last ten days that one of his companies has apparently been the victim of a substantial fraud and conversion of all of its assets. The alleged fraud was committed by a broker who was hired by the Bank's customer to buy and sell inventory and collect accounts receivable. Most, if not all, of the company's converted assets were pledged to West Bank. That broker and his company filed bankruptcy late last week, which stayed pending requests for information.

West Bank has two loans to the company totaling approximately $12.8 million. The loans are not totally impaired. However, the loans were secured on the basis of reported inventory and accounts receivable that are now believed to have no value. The owner of the company has also personally guaranteed the loans. West Bank's guarantor has indicated his willingness to pledge additional personal assets to secure his guarantee. West Bank is working with its customer to determine the liquidation value of the additional assets. The Bank's customer has not made a determination of the recovery, if any, from the broker. Both the company and its owner are cooperating with West Bank.

As of today, management does not have sufficient information to make a good faith determination of the estimated amount of the impairment. An additional disclosure will be made when sufficient information becomes available. The loans have been placed on non-accrual status.
