ITEM 1.01 ENTRY INTO A MATERIAL DEFINITIVE AGREEMENT.

On April 18, 2011, AMCON Distributing Company ("AMCON or "Company") executed a Second Amended and Restated Revolving Line of Credit Agreement with Bank of America, N.A. This new credit agreement replaces the Company's existing credit facility with Bank of America, which was scheduled to mature in January 2012. The new credit agreement provides for the following terms and conditions:

- An April 2014 maturity date for the credit facility.
- A $55.0 million revolving credit limit for the credit facility.
- A loan accordion provision, which would allow the Company to increase the size of the credit facility by up to $25.0 million.
- The new agreement provides for the availability of an additional $5.0 million of credit advances for use in making certain inventory purchases.
- The credit facility bears interest at either the bank's prime rate or at LIBOR plus 175 basis points, at the election of the Company.
- The lending limits of the credit facility are subject to specified accounts receivable and inventory limitations.
- The credit facility is subject to an unused commitment fee payable by the Company equal to one-quarter of one percent (1/4%) per annum on the difference between the maximum loan limit and average monthly borrowings.
- The credit facility is secured by collateral including all of the Company's equipment, intangibles, inventories, and accounts receivable.
- The new agreement prohibits the Company's payment of dividends on its common stock in excess of $1.00 per share on an annual basis.
- The new agreement contains a financial covenant requiring the Company to maintain a fixed charge coverage ratio of at least 1.0 to 1.0, measured only if excess credit facility availability falls below $5.5 million.
- The new agreement contains an evergreen renewal clause, which provides for the automatic renewal of the term of the credit facility for additional one year periods unless either the borrower or lender provides written notice terminating the agreement at least 90 days prior to the end of the original term of the agreement or the end of any renewal term.
- The new agreement provides for a prepayment penalty equal to one-half of one percent (1/2%) if the Company prepays the entire credit facility or terminates it in the first year of the agreement, and one-quarter of one percent (1/4%) if the Company prepays the entire credit facility or terminates it in the second year of the agreement. The prepayment penalty is calculated based on the maximum loan amount.

The Company made certain representations and warranties in the new agreement that are customary for credit agreements of this type. The new agreement also contains affirmative and negative covenants that are customary for credit agreements of this type.

The foregoing is a summary of the material terms of new agreement, and does not purport to be a complete discussion thereof. Accordingly, the foregoing is qualified in its entirety by deference to the full text of the new agreement, which will be filed as an exhibit to the Company's report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ending March 31, 2011.
