Information to be included in the report

Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On June 5, 2007, Silicon Graphics, Inc. (the "Company") and certain of the Company's subsidiaries (with the Company, the "Borrowers") entered into the First Amendment to the Senior Secured Credit Agreement (the "Amendment") with Morgan Stanley Senior Funding, Inc. and General Electric Capital Corporation, as lending agents (the "Lenders"). The Senior Secured Credit Agreement (the "Agreement"), dated October 17, 2006, provided the Borrowers with an $85 million term loan from Morgan Stanley Senior Funding, Inc. and a $30 million line of credit from General Electric Capital Corporation.

The purpose of the Amendment was to reduce the Company's minimum liquidity obligations under the Agreement in order to permit the Company to fulfill anticipated funding obligations under certain new customer contracts and to make minor technical corrections to the original loan agreement.

The Amendment reduces the Company's required Minimum Liquidity (as defined in the Agreement) from $15 million to $10 million during the period from June 1, 2007 through the earlier of either (i) the receipt by the Borrowers of at least $8 million under certain existing contracts, or (ii) July 13, 2007 (the "Liquidity Increase Date"). After the Liquidity Increase Date, minimum liquidity of $15 million is required through October 17, 2007, and $10 million is required thereafter.

The Amendment also clarifies the prepayment premium required if the loan commitment is reduced. Previously, the Borrowers were required to pay an amount equal to the aggregate principal amount to be repaid multiplied by a prepayment date percentage. As amended, the prepayment premium will be equal to the reduction of the total revolving commitment multiplied by a prepayment date percentage.

The Amendment also discontinues a requirement that the Borrowers provide monthly consolidated statements of cash flow.
