We have argued in previous letters there is a good case that equity prices should be performing well on the strength of a powerful recovery in earnings and cash flows and the achievement of pre-crisis profit margins even in the face of weak demand. The economy is burdened by the fact that both consumers and businesses are reducing spending and are paying down debt, but everyone already knows that; a weak economy is no longer a surprise that could suddenly rise out of nowhere and bushwhack the stock market. Aggregate profits may stagnate in a no credit growth world but we have concentrated our investments in companies that have reduced the size of their capital stock to its most productive components and have been able to sustain profitability and build cash.

The biggest surprise to us is the failure of the market to recognize the value of growing cash flow streams, particularly in the technology sector. We think this is about to change. Excess cash is building across a number of industries, but cash hoarding strategies are being proven counterproductive and pressure is building on managements to begin to distribute it. Barron s and others have suggested that if cash rich technology companies for example, establish rising dividend streams, their equity values would increase substantially. Hoarding cash at zero percent interest rates is a poor capital allocation strategy. It not only leaves stranded capital on the balance sheet, but provides incentives to endless new competitors. In response, the market has awarded many of these companies ridiculously low price-to-earnings ratios.

In the case of Microsoft Corp (MSFT-NYSE) for example, estimates are the company is on track to deliver a free cash flow yield of 10% in 2010 and 12% in 2011. In a zero money rate world, that is an extremely valuable cash stream, yet the company s price to earnings ratio has declined to 10xs in the face of a not inconsiderable high single digit revenue growth and low teens earnings growth.

We think a market populated with income starved investors will force a change in these cash hoarding strategies, that in a zero interest rate world, our patience will win out, managements will finally wake up and realize they are suffocating the values they are paid by the shareholders to build, and our work in defining strong cash flow companies will pay off. The cash is already beginning to move. Even Microsoft s dividend exceeds the ten year Treasury yield, merger and acquisition activity and private equity deals are already reemerging and stock buybacks are likely to pick up.

There has been more talk of quantitative easing by the Federal Reserve. Such policies might not have much effect on money supply growth, simply because U.S. households in the aggregate are unable to borrow and it takes borrowing to increase money supplies. Nevertheless, market anticipation has helped the S&P 500 (second most widely followed index of large-cap U.S. stocks) rise above 1150 and emerging markets indexes such as the MSCI AC Asia ex-Japan² break out above its June 2008 high, making up all of the 2008 2009 losses.

We think such a policy is most likely to fuel higher stock prices in emerging markets, where price to earnings ratios³ are similar to that on the S&P 500 but where credit can grow to support high profits. Capital inflows, strong domestic demand, low domestic credit to gross domestic product (GDP) ratios, and Japan s intent to flood their capital markets with liquidity to halt the Yen s rise will all likely lend to a liquidity boom in Asia. Many Asian markets have been moving up in recent weeks, something we view as a positive divergence. Hong Kong bank share prices have also been outperforming, another positive indicator.

We continue to find good domestic demand stories throughout Asia. It is easy to underestimate the positive effects of China s infrastructure investments and its transition to a services based economy. These policies not only improve productivity but create a well trained work force and personal incomes are building. No longer is China overspending on low return steel and aluminum plants, but it is investing in the ability to move its population efficiently and cheaply. During a recent trip to Chongqing, I noted perhaps well in excess of 100 cranes in the ground, but many were simply to replacing old Communist built housing, not necessarily adding to the housing stock.

Not only do we have one of the largest percentages of assets in the Fund s history committed to Asian markets generally, but a few months ago we added Brian Chen to our analytical staff to focus more on non-China markets such as Malaysia and Indonesia. Brian has twenty years of experience analyzing Asian markets and companies and further illustrates our commitment to having the strongest research effort possible. China s equity market offers economic dominance of the continent and proliferation of investment opportunities and China s consumption trends will be the major source of Asia investments for the Funds, but other Asian markets have the advantage that the government is not trying to suppress real estate demand.

Economic indicators out of Brazil also support a fully invested position there. Mortgage loans outstanding rose 51% in August according to Bradesco Equity Research, unemployment fell below 7% and real wages rose 8.1% year over year. Credit growth is rising at double digit rates as a housing expansion gets underway and we believe that the nation s growth will be underestimated by many investors.

Our holdings of auto related stocks have also trended sideways for several months while the companies have been reporting record profit margins even at depressed sales levels. August auto sales were 11.5 million, still well below replacement levels of perhaps 13.5 million, indicating that profit growth in this cycle still has a long way to go⁴. As the market becomes more confident of the sustainability of current sales levels, we think the stocks will move higher.

Other sectors are also attractive. For example, life insurance stocks are cheap. There is little or no recognition of franchise value and the stocks have discounted a sharp surge in credit risk when none appears likely. Corporate cash flows are strong, corporate debt is being reduced and credit spreads continue to decline. Several sell at 30 40 percent discounts to book valueand investors are pricing them as if corporate bonds were as distressed as they were eighteen months ago.

We have added to our mortgage insurance holdings over the last month or so. A number of states attorney generals have taken action against a number of banks over concerns regarding the integrity of mortgage loan foreclosure procedures. Many mortgage lenders have temporarily suspended foreclosure activities in response. Our sense is these events only intensify pressures to restructure mortgages where underwriting standards are at issue. This would further reduce the number of actual foreclosures that would trigger insurance payments. Evidence that cures of delinquent mortgages continue to outpace new delinquencies also points to improving fundamentals.

The Funds have been invested in oil production and exploration, both in the companies and the suppliers of their technology since we first began to invest. We have watched these stocks trade sideways for some time but it seems to us the futures curve pointing to higher oil prices as one goes out in time that the most efficient way to hold oil reserve is by holding the producer stocks.

Finally the Fund reduced its exposure to investment grade corporate bonds during the quarter. Spreads had declined in many instances to the point that further upside was limited. We invested the proceeds in high dividend Business Development Companies and mortgage real estate investment trusts (REITs). We have also identified selective high dividend stocks in Asia.

We appreciate your confidence in us and endeavor to do the best job we can of investing our clients assets. We sincerely appreciate your interest in our funds. If you have any questions about your investment, please call 1-877-256-8445.

Sincerely,

Charles I. Clough, Jr.

- * Based on average shares outstanding.
- (1) Total investment return is calculated assuming a purchase of a common share at the opening on the first day and a sale at the closing on the last day of each period reported. Total investment return on net asset value excludes a sales load of $0.90 per share for the period, effectively reducing the net asset value at issuance from $20.00 to $19.10. Dividends and distributions, if any, are assumed for purposes of this calculation to be reinvested at price obtained under the Fund s dividend reinvestment plan. Total investment returns do not reflect brokerage commissions on the purchase or sale of the Fund s common shares. Total investment returns for less than a full year are not annualized. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results.

- ⁽⁴⁾ All series of AMPS issued by the Fund were fully redeemed, at par value, on May 22, 2008.
- (5) Calculated by subtracting the Fund's total liabilities (excluding Preferred Shares) from the Fund's total assets and dividing by the number of preferred shares outstanding.

Notes to Financial Statements

September 30, 2010 (Unaudited)

1. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING AND OPERATING POLICIES

Clough Global Allocation Fund, Clough Global Equity Fund, and Clough Global Opportunities Fund, (each, a Fund and collectively, the Funds) are each a closed-end management investment company that was organized under the laws of the state of Delaware by an Amended Agreement and Declaration of Trust dated April 27, 2004, January 25, 2005, respectively for Clough Global Allocation Fund and Clough Global Equity Fund and an Agreement and Declaration of Trust dated January 12, 2006 for Clough Global Opportunities Fund. Each Fund is a non-diversified series with an investment objective to provide a high level of total return. Each Declaration of Trust provides that the Trustees may authorize separate classes of shares of beneficial interest.

Security Valuation: The net asset value per share of each Fund is determined no less frequently than daily, on each day that the New York Stock Exchange (the Exchange) is open for trading, as of the close of regular trading on the Exchange (normally 4:00 p.m. New York time). Trading may take place in foreign issues held by the Fund at times when a Fund is not open for business. As a result, each Fund s net asset value may change at times when it is not possible to purchase or sell shares of a Fund. Securities held by each Fund for which exchange quotations are readily available are valued at the last sale price, or if no sale price or if traded on the over-the-counter market, at the mean of the bid and asked prices on such day. Debt securities for which the over-the-counter market is the primary market are normally valued on the basis of prices furnished by one or more pricing services at the mean between the latest available bid and asked prices. As authorized by the Trustees, debt securities (other than short-term obligations) may be valued on the basis of valuations furnished by a pricing service which determines valuations based upon market transactions for normal, institutional-size trading units of securities. Short-term obligations maturing within 60 days are valued at amortized cost, which approximates value, unless the Trustees determine that under particular circumstances such method does not result in fair value. Over-the-counter options are valued at the mean between bid and asked prices provided by dealers. Financial futures contracts listed on commodity exchanges and exchange-traded options are valued at closing settlement prices. Securities for which there is no such quotation or valuation and all other assets are valued at fair value in good faith by or at the direction of the Trustees.

Foreign Securities: Each Fund may invest a portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event that a Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund will generally enter into a forward foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. Foreign securities may carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political, market and currency risks.

The accounting records of each Fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. Prices of securities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the closing rates of exchange at period end. Amounts related to the purchase and sale of foreign securities and investment income are translated at the rates of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions.

The effect of changes in foreign currency exchange rates on investments is included with the fluctuations arising from changes in market values of securities held and reported with all other foreign currency gains and losses in the Funds Statements of Operations.

A foreign currency contract is a commitment to purchase or sell a foreign currency at a future date, at a negotiated rate. Each Fund may enter into foreign currency contracts to settle specific purchases or sales of securities denominated in a foreign currency and for protection from adverse exchange rate fluctuation. Risks to a Fund include the potential inability of the counterparty to meet the terms of the contract.

The net U.S. dollar value of foreign currency underlying all contractual commitments held by a Fund and the resulting unrealized appreciation or depreciation are determined using prevailing forward foreign currency exchange rates. Unrealized appreciation and depreciation on foreign currency contracts are reported in the Funds Statements of Assets and Liabilities as a receivable or a payable and in the Funds Statements of Operations with the change in unrealized appreciation or depreciation. There were no outstanding foreign currency contracts for the Funds as of September 30, 2010.

A Fund may realize a gain or loss upon the closing or settlement of the foreign transaction. Such realized gains and losses are reported with all other foreign currency gains and losses in the Statements of Operations.

Fair Valuation: If the price of a security is unavailable in accordance with a Funds pricing procedures, or the price of a security is unreliable, e.g., due to the occurrence of a significant event, the security may be valued at its fair value determined pursuant to procedures adopted by the Board of Trustees. For this purpose, fair value is the price that a Fund reasonably expects to receive on a current sale of the security. Due to the number of variables affecting the price of a security, however; it is possible that the fair value of a security may not accurately reflect the price that a Fund could actually receive on a sale of the security. As of September 30, 2010, securities which have been fair valued represented 0.11%, 0.10% and 0.10% of net assets of Clough Global Allocation Fund, Clough Global Equity Fund, and Clough Opportunities Equity Fund, respectively.

A three-tier hierarchy has been established to classify fair value measurements for disclosure purposes. Inputs refer broadly to the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability, including assumptions about risk. Inputs may be observable or unobservable. Observable inputs are inputs that reflect the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability that are developed based on market data obtained from sources independent of the reporting entity. Unobservable inputs are inputs that reflect the reporting entity s own assumptions about the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability that are developed based on the best information available.

Various inputs are used in determining the value of each Fund s investments as of the reporting period end. These inputs are categorized in the following hierarchy under applicable financial accounting standards:

- Level 1 Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical investments
- Level 2 Significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar investments, interest rates, prepayments speeds, credit risk, etc.)
- Level 3 Significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund s own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments)

The following is a summary of the inputs used as of September 30, 2010 in valuing each Fund s investments carried at value:

Options: Each Fund may purchase or write (sell) put and call options. One of the risks associated with purchasing an option among others, is that a Fund pays a premium whether or not the option is exercised. Additionally, a Fund bears the risk of loss of premium and change in market value should the counterparty not perform under the contract. Put and call options purchased are accounted for in the same manner as portfolio securities. The cost of securities acquired through the exercise of call options is increased by premiums paid. The proceeds from securities sold through the exercise of put options are decreased by the premiums paid.

When a Fund writes an option, an amount equal to the premium received by a Fund is recorded as a liability and is subsequently adjusted to the current value of the option written. Premiums received from writing options that expire unexercised are treated by a Fund on the expiration date as realized gains from investments. The difference between the premium and the amount paid on effecting a closing purchase transaction, including brokerage commissions, is also treated as a realized gain, or, if the premium is less than the amount paid for the closing purchase transaction, as a realized loss. If a call option is exercised, the premium is added to the proceeds from the sale of the underlying security or currency in determining whether a Fund has realized a gain or loss. If a put option is exercised, the premium reduces the cost basis of the securities purchased by a Fund. Each Fund, as writer of an option, bears the market risk of an unfavorable change in the price of the security underlying the written option. Written and purchased options are non-income producing securities.
