Important New Information

Regarding Tesla's Acquisition of SolarCity

On November 4, 2016, Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS), the world's leading proxy voting advisory firm, announced that it is recommending to its clients that they vote in favor of Tesla's acquisition of Solar City. ISS noted in its report:

The transaction is a necessary step towards TSLA's goal of being an integrated sustainable energy company.

TSLA could simply be a non-standard car company, and eventually compete on a level ground with the likes of BMW, Mercedes or Toyota – or take a step forward integrating solar, batteries and cars to be on a league of its own.

As a reminder, you can vote your shares by phone, online or via mail any time on or before November 16, 2016, although we strongly encourage you to vote as soon as possible.

Please carefully review and follow the specific voting instructions on the enclosed proxy card.

Thank you to all of our shareholders for your support over the years.
