This Code covers important topics that are part of the way of acting and driving Gafisa, whether in its relations with internal or external audiences. All employees, suppliers, shareholders and partners, including business partners and SPEs (Specific Purpose Company) must agree and comply with the Code of Ethics.

CEO's Message

People,

This Code of Ethics is instrumental in achieving the mission, vision and culture of Gafisa. Its purpose is to guide our actions in day-to-day work and clarify our position for the public with whom we interact: suppliers, partners, shareholders, customers and the community.

This version is the result of a review conducted in late 2013 and early 2014, which involved the members of the Ethics Committee, including Gafisa's Executive Officers, as well as the areas of Internal Audit, Human Resources (Gente e Gestão), Legal and Communications. The elements set out in the "Anti-Corruption Law" (Law 12,846), enforced since January 2014, have been strengthened and are in line with the Code. We reiterate our commitment to ethics and good principles in the conduct of our business.

It is vitally important that this Code is reflected in our culture. We all have a responsibility to live it, regardless of hierarchical level. Therefore, I recommend the careful reading of the information that follows, as it will assist you in your initiatives and decisions.

Sandro Gamba

Gafisa CEO

Mission, Vision and Culture of Gafisa

Here you will learn more about our Vision, our Mission and our Culture. We are responsible for transforming it all into reality. Gafisa's People are like this: they seek to excel, are not afraid of challenges and always make it happen!

Vision

To be the reference company in the real estate segment that generates the highest perceived value for everybody involved in the business (customers, investors, employees and partners).

Mission

To provide a relationship based on proximity, enchantment and exceeding expectations through exclusive projects connected to people's lifestyles.

Gafisa Culture - Our way of being

Clients

Delivering quality is our commitment. We want to bring customers closer to the dreams, memories and good feelings involved in buying a property. So, we go beyond, seeking to exceed their expectations at all stages of their relationship with us: in sales, construction, financing, delivery and post-delivery warranty. An honest and transparent relationship that the customer deserves and needs is what makes us different.

Employees

We are sure that our team is made up of the best people, who guide their conduct within moral and ethical standards. We are different because we observe and understand. If something doesn't exist and it is important, we create it. If we don't know something, we seek to learn. We humbly listen. And talk with respect. We always want to make things right. To do this, we take risks. If anything happens, we will fix it. And we continue to make things right and aim to make fewer mistakes.

Position

We should always honor our commitments. We need to know that transparency should permeate the whole process, both internally and externally. We do our job through simple actions that generate positive examples. And we are very proud of our brand.

Business Cycle

We have a long cycle, which can reach five years from the incorporation, sale, construction, and delivery. Therefore, our decisions must be assertive so that each area can execute the plans within the agreed deadlines, ensuring the future result even if, in some cases, it compromises the immediate result.

Results

We must stand firm in meeting what we have planned and the budgets that we have developed. The results that we aim for will be achieved by obsessing over information and processes. Besides the adequate financial returns, we have to generate a significant added value for investors.

Products

We should always be in tune with the market, anticipating trends and the needs of our customers. Our products interfere directly with society and we therefore have an extreme responsibility in what we do. We respect and learn from those who are part of the production chain and we are always ready to make things happen.

Environment and Community

We act with respect with the communities where we develop our projects. In order to achieve that, we adopt modern technologies and practices in order to make our operations more effectively and minimize the environmental impacts.

Quality Policy

We assure the profitability and growth of our Company through the continuous improvement of our products, process and customer satisfaction.

Gafisa's People

The relations between our People must be based on ethical integrity, which translates into treating employees, partners, suppliers and stakeholders with dignity and respect, without distinction of race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, social class or disability.
