NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

July 1, 2017

(Unaudited)

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements include the accounts of BlueLinx Holdings Inc. and its wholly owned subsidiaries (the “Company”). These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the instructions to Form 10-Q and do not include all of the information and footnotes required by accounting principles generally accepted (“GAAP”) in the United States (“U.S.”) for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included. These statements should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements and notes thereto included in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K (the “Annual Report on Form 10-K”) for the year ended December 31, 2016, as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

New Accounting Standards

Revenue from Contracts with Customers. In May 2014, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) 2014-09, “Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606)”, which supersedes the revenue recognition requirements in Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 605, Revenue Recognition. The new revenue recognition standard requires entities to recognize revenue in a way that depicts the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled to in exchange for those goods or services. The ASU 2014-09 will replace most existing revenue recognition guidance in U.S. GAAP when it becomes effective. The new standard is effective on January 1, 2018. We have elected to adopt the revenue recognition standard in the first quarter of 2018 with a cumulative adjustment to retained earnings. We have substantially completed our assessment of the new revenue recognition guidance. Based upon current interpretations, we do not anticipate the adoption of this standard to have a material impact on our financial statements, aside from adding expanded disclosures.

Deferred Gains on Sale and Leaseback Transactions

We amortize deferred gains on the sale and leaseback of real property under operating leases over the lives of these leases. The amortization of these gains is recorded as a reduction to rent expense. We amortize the deferred gains on the sale and leaseback of real property under capital leases over the lease term in proportion to the amortization of the leased asset (i.e. on a straight-line basis) as a reduction of selling, general, and administrative expense. Amortization of all deferred gain was immaterial for the three and six months ended July 1, 2017.

Upon adoption of ASU 2016-02, “Leases,” which we plan to adopt effective in the first quarter of fiscal 2019, the transition provisions of this accounting standard will allow us to continue to amortize the deferred gains on sale-leaseback transactions currently classified as capital leases, while the remaining deferred gain of approximately $1.6 million at the transition date pertaining to the sole sale-leaseback transaction accounted for as an operating lease will be reclassified to stockholders’ equity at that date.

2. Employee Benefits

The following table shows the components of net periodic pension cost (in thousands):

	Three Months Ended		Six Months Ended
	July 1, 2017	July 2, 2016	July 1, 2017	July 2, 2016
Service cost	$183	$252	$366	$504
Interest cost on projected benefit obligation	1,178	1,271	2,356	2,542
Expected return on plan assets	(1,584)	(1,551)	(3,168)	(3,102)
Amortization of unrecognized loss	268	223	536	447

Net periodic pension cost $45 $195 $90 $391

During the first six months of fiscal 2017, we renegotiated our collective bargaining agreement with a unionized location. This collective bargaining agreement covers a number of specific items such as wages, medical coverage, and certain other benefit programs, including pension plan participation. As a result of this renegotiation, a significant percentage of the participants in the plan are no longer accruing future years of service, which triggered a curtailment. As a result of the curtailment, we performed a revaluation of plan assets and liabilities. The pension benefit obligation decreased $1.5 million as a result of changes in valuation assumptions; primarily, an increase in the balance of plan assets. The overall increase in plan asset valuation was partially offset by a decrease to accumulated other comprehensive income of $0.6 million as a result of a decrease in the discount rate, which was recorded in other comprehensive loss on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations and Comprehensive Income (Loss). No intraperiod income tax effect was required to be recorded as a result of the curtailment.

Multiemployer Pension Plans

During the first quarter of fiscal 2017, we entered into a new collective bargaining agreement with the Lumber Employees Local 786 union at our Chicago facility. As a result, we provided for a withdrawal from the related multi-employer pension plan, and, accordingly, recorded an estimated $4.5 million withdrawal liability on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet in “other non-current liabilities,” and recorded an offsetting non-cash expense in the Condensed Consolidated Statement of Operations in “selling, general, and administrative” costs. In the second quarter of fiscal 2017, we reassessed our estimate of the withdrawal liability and recorded an additional $1.0 million to the aforementioned liability and expense accounts. Unless a lump sum payment is mutually agreed-upon, we would expect the liability to be paid over a 20-year period, with payments substantially similar on a total annual basis to those disclosed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K, Item 8, Note 9, for the year ended December 31, 2016. However, we are currently negotiating a final determination of liability with the Plan’s trustees, and may consider alternative arrangements, such as a lump sum or partial lump sum payment, in exchange for a lower liability.

3. Assets Held for Sale and Net Gain on Disposition

We currently have designated two unoccupied properties as held for sale, due to strategic initiatives. At the time of designation as “held for sale,” we ceased recognizing depreciation expense on these assets. As of July 1, 2017, two properties were designated as held for sale, and as of December 31, 2016, four properties had been designated as held for sale. During that six months, two properties were sold, as further described below. As of July 1, 2017, and December 31, 2016, the net book value of total assets held for sale was $0.8 million and $2.7 million, respectively, and was included in “other current assets” in our Consolidated Balance Sheets. We are actively marketing the remaining two properties that are designated as held for sale.

For the six months ended July 1, 2017, we sold two non-operating distribution facilities previously designated as “held for sale,” and a parcel of excess land (the “Property Sales”). We recognized a gain of $6.7 million in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations as a result of the Property Sales.

4. Fair Value Disclosure

To determine the fair value of our mortgage, we use a discounted cash flow model. We believe the mortgage fair value valuation to be Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy, as the valuation model has inputs that are observable for substantially the full term of the liability. As of July 1, 2017, the carrying amount and fair value of our mortgage was $97.8 million and $100.8 million, respectively. The difference between the book value and the fair value is derived from the difference between the period-end market interest rate and the stated rate of our fixed-rate mortgage. The fair value of our debt is not indicative of the amounts at which we could settle our debt.

5. Other Non-Current Liabilities

The following table shows the components of other non-current liabilities (in millions):

	July 1, 2017	December 31, 2016
Capital leases - real estate	$7.9	$ —
Deferred gain on sale-leaseback transactions	11.2	—
Capital leases - logistics equipment	7.0	8.6
Other	13.3	5.9
Total	$39.4	$ 14.5

6. Earnings per Share

We calculate basic earnings per share by dividing net income by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding, excluding unvested restricted shares. We calculate diluted earnings per share by dividing net income by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding plus the dilutive effect of outstanding share-based awards, including restricted stock awards, restricted stock units, performance shares, and stock options. Antidilutive common stock equivalents excluded from the diluted earnings per share calculation for the quarter and year to date during fiscal 2017 include all outstanding options and performance shares, and an immaterial number of restricted stock units.

The following table shows the computation of basic and diluted earnings per share (in thousands, except per share data):

	Three months ended		Six months ended
	July 1, 2017	July 2, 2016 ⁽¹⁾	July 1, 2017	July 2, 2016 ⁽¹⁾
Net income (loss)	$3,238	$(3,144)	$3,822	$(9,289)
Basic weighted shares outstanding	9,055	8,895	9,011	8,886
Dilutive effect of share-based awards	135	—	130	—
Diluted weighted average shares outstanding	9,190	8,895	9,141	8,886
Basic earnings (loss) per share	$0.36	$(0.35)	$0.42	$(1.05)
Diluted earnings (loss) per share	$0.35	$(0.35)	$0.42	$(1.05)

⁽¹⁾ Basic and diluted earnings per share are equivalent for the three and six months ended July 2, 2016, due to net losses for those periods.

7. Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss

Comprehensive income (loss) is a measure of income which includes both net income (loss) and other comprehensive income (loss). Other comprehensive income (loss) results from items deferred from recognition into our Consolidated Statements of Operations and Comprehensive Income (Loss). Accumulated other comprehensive loss is separately presented on our Consolidated Balance Sheets as part of common stockholders' deficit.

The changes in balances for each component of Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss for the six months ended July 1, 2017, were as follows (in thousands):

	Foreign currency, net of tax	Defined benefit pension plan, net of tax	Other, net of tax	Total Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss
December 31, 2016, beginning balance	$ 660	$(37,523)	$ 212	$ (36,651)
Other comprehensive income (loss), net of tax ⁽¹⁾	14	(56)	—	(42)
July 1, 2017, ending balance, net of tax	$ 674	$(37,579)	$ 212	$ (36,693)

For the six months ended July 1, 2017, the actuarial loss recognized in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations and Comprehensive Income (Loss) as a component of net periodic pension cost was significantly offset by the effect of pension curtailment (see Note 2). There was no intraperiod income tax allocation and the deferred tax benefit was fully offset by a valuation allowance.

8. Liquidity and ASU 2014-15

As of July 1, 2017, we had outstanding borrowings of $231.3 million and excess availability of $74.2 million under the terms of the revolving credit facility, including the Tranche A Loan (together, the "revolving credit facility"), based on qualifying inventory and accounts receivable.

A portion of our debt is classified as "Current maturities of long-term debt" on our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet as of July 1, 2017, since it is due within the next twelve months. These amounts consist of a $55.0 million principal reduction of our mortgage, which is due by July 1, 2018, and $2.0 million commitment reduction of the Tranche A Loan. We are actively engaged in marketing certain of our real estate holdings in sale and leaseback transactions in order to meet the principal reduction date specified by our mortgage loan.

As stated in our Annual Report on Form 10-K, Note 1, the FASB previously issued ASU 2014-15, which is codified in Accounting Standards Codified ("ASC") 205, "Presentation of Financial Statements," which requires footnote disclosures concerning, among other matters, an entity's ability to repay its obligations through normal operational or other sources over the twelve months following the date of financial statement issuance. We have adopted this accounting standard, as disclosed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K, Note 15. As stated above, our mortgage requires a principal payment of $55.0 million due no later than July 1, 2018. We note that our plans and intentions to satisfy this obligation include sale and leaseback transactions, as well as potentially refinancing the mortgage. Additionally, our revolving credit facility, the entire balance of which is stated above, is due on July 15, 2018. As we have in the past, we expect to extend or refinance the revolving credit facility. However, there can be no assurance that we could extend or refinance our debt on terms that are favorable or acceptable to us, or at all.

Executive Level Overview

Background

We are a leading distributor of building and industrial products in the U.S. The Company is headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia, and we operate our distribution business through a broad network of distribution centers. We operate in many major metropolitan areas in the U.S. We distribute products in two principal categories: structural products and specialty products. Structural products include plywood, oriented strand board, rebar and remesh, lumber and other wood products primarily used for structural support, walls, and flooring in construction projects. Structural products represented approximately 45% of our second quarter of fiscal 2017 net sales. Specialty products include roofing, insulation, moulding, engineered wood, vinyl products (used primarily in siding), and metal products (excluding rebar and remesh). Specialty products accounted for approximately 55% of our second quarter of fiscal 2017 net sales.

Industry Conditions

Many of the factors that cause our operations to fluctuate are seasonal or cyclical in nature. Our operating results have historically been closely aligned with the level of residential housing starts in the U.S. At any time, the demand for new homes is dependent on a variety of factors, including job growth, changes in population and demographics, the availability and cost of mortgage financing, the supply of new and existing homes and, importantly, consumer confidence. Since 2011, the U.S. housing market has shown steady improvement. Our opinion is that this trend will continue in the long term, and that we are well-positioned to support our customers.

The schedule presented above includes a reconciliation of net sales and gross profit excluding the effect of operational efficiency initiatives; specifically, facility closures and the SKU rationalization initiative. These operational efficiency initiatives were substantially complete as of December 31, 2016. The above schedule is not a presentation made in accordance with GAAP, and is not intended to present a superior measure of the financial condition from those determined under GAAP. Adjusted sales and adjusted gross profit as used herein, are not necessarily comparable to other similarly titled captions of other companies due to differences in methods of calculation.

We believe adjusted net sales and adjusted gross profit are helpful in presenting comparability across periods without the effect of our operational efficiency initiatives. We also believe that these non-GAAP metrics are used by securities analysts, investors, and other interested parties in their evaluation of our company, to illustrate the effects of these initiatives. We compensate for the limitations of using non-GAAP financial measures by using them to supplement GAAP results to provide a more complete understanding of the factors and trends affecting the business than using GAAP results alone.

Second Quarter of Fiscal 2017 Compared to Second Quarter of Fiscal 2016

Net sales. For the second quarter of fiscal 2017, net sales decreased by 6.9%, or $35.0 million, compared to the second quarter of fiscal 2016. The decrease in sales was largely driven by operational consolidation resulting from distribution center closures in fiscal 2016, and SKU rationalization, as our adjusted same-center net sales increased by approximately $23.2 million. The overall sales decrease for the quarter-over-quarter comparative period was primarily due to a decrease in specialty product sales, partially offset by a slight increase in structural product sales.

Gross profit and gross margin. For the second quarter of fiscal 2017, gross profit dollars increased by $3.2 million, or 5.5%, compared to the second quarter of fiscal 2016. Gross profit increased in the second quarter of fiscal 2017 due to increased margin on specialty products, slightly offset by margin decreases in structural products. Gross margin percentage increased by 150 basis points to 12.8%, primarily due to margin percentage increases on specialty products.

Selling, general, and administrative expenses. The decrease of 7.0%, or $3.7 million, for the second quarter of fiscal 2017, compared to the second quarter of fiscal 2016, is primarily related to reductions in payroll and related costs, due to a reduction in force in the prior year in connection with distribution center closures, which also resulted in decreases in property taxes, as well as decreases in general maintenance and repair costs.

Interest expense, net. For the second quarter of fiscal 2017, net interest expense decreased by $0.9 million, or 14.1%, compared to the second quarter of fiscal 2016. This net decrease in interest expense for the comparable fiscal quarter primarily was attributable to the reduced debt balance on our interest-only mortgage loan. The principal balance on our fixed-rate mortgage loan decreased by approximately $61.0 million to $97.8 million as of July 1, 2017, from $158.8 million as of July 2, 2016.

First Six Months of Fiscal 2017 Compared to First Six Months of Fiscal 2016

Net sales. For the first six months of fiscal 2017, net sales decreased by 8.2%, or $80.7 million, compared to the first six months of fiscal 2016. The year-over-year six month decrease in sales was primarily driven by planned closures of distribution centers in fiscal 2016, and SKU rationalization, as same center sales increased by $32.2 million for the comparable six month period, an increase of 3.7%. While sales prices increased on both structural and specialty items, comparable unit volumes were relatively flat in the year-over-year period.

Gross profit and gross margin. For the first six months of fiscal 2017, gross profit dollars were essentially flat. Total gross margin percentage increased 100 basis points over the comparable prior year period, which was driven largely by a 1.7% increase in specialty product gross margin, offset by a 20 basis point decrease in structural product margin.

Selling, general, and administrative expenses. The decrease of $5.9 million for the six months of fiscal 2017, compared to the first six months of fiscal 2016, is primarily related to reductions in payroll and related costs, due to a reduction in force in the prior year in connection with distribution center closures, which also resulted in a decrease in general maintenance and repair costs. These overall cost decreases were slightly offset by an increase in strategic costs, year-over-year, as during the first six months of fiscal 2017, we incurred $5.5 million in pension expense as a result of our withdrawal from a multi-employer pension plan, compared to $3.3 million of refinancing related costs in fiscal 2016.

Interest expense, net. For the first six months of fiscal 2017, net interest expense decreased by $2.8 million, or 21.2%, compared to the first six months of fiscal 2016. This net decrease in interest expense was attributable to our substantially reduced debt balances. The principal balance on our fixed-rate mortgage loan decreased by approximately $61.0 million to $97.8 million as of July 1, 2017, from $158.8 million as of July 2, 2016. Our principal balance decreased by $15.5 million on the Credit Agreement during that same period, to $231.3 million as of July 1, 2017, while LIBOR-based interest rates pertaining to the Credit Agreement increased by approximately 80 basis points as of July 1, 2017 to approximately 5.0%, compared to approximately 4.2% as of July 2, 2016.

Seasonality

We are exposed to fluctuations in quarterly sales volumes and expenses due to seasonal factors common in the building products distribution industry. The first and fourth fiscal quarters are typically our slowest quarters, due to the impact of poor weather on the construction market. Our second and third fiscal quarters are typically our strongest quarters, reflecting a substantial increase in construction, due to more favorable weather conditions. Our accounts receivable and payable generally peak in the fiscal second quarter, along with inventory, which also generally peaks in the fiscal second quarter in anticipation of the summer building season.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

We expect our primary sources of liquidity to be cash flows from sales in the normal course of our operations and borrowings under our revolving credit facility. We expect that these sources will fund our ongoing cash requirements for the foreseeable future, as we expect to extend or refinance our revolving credit facility (see Item 1, Note 8). We believe that sales in the normal course of our operations and amounts currently available from our revolving credit facility and other sources will be sufficient to fund our routine operations and working capital requirements for at least the next 12 months.

Mortgage

As of July 1, 2017, the balance on our mortgage loan was $97.8 million. During the second quarter of fiscal 2017, we paid approximately $1.6 million in principal on the mortgage, primarily from proceeds resulting from the sale of excess land sold in the first quarter of fiscal 2017. The mortgage is secured by owned distribution facilities. Our mortgage lender has a first priority pledge of the equity in the Company's subsidiaries which hold the real property that secures the mortgage loan.

As modified on March 24, 2016, our mortgage is due on July 1, 2019. We pre-paid in its entirety a $60.0 million principal reduction which was due no later than July 1, 2017. The remaining principal reductions include a $55.0 million principal payment due no later than July 1, 2018, with the remaining balance due no later than July 1, 2019. We may perform sale and leaseback transactions on certain of our properties in order to meet the remaining scheduled principal payments, or we may consider other financing options. The mortgage requires monthly interest-only payments, at an annual interest rate of 6.35%.

Revolving Credit Facility

As of July 1, 2017, we had outstanding borrowings of $231.3 million and excess availability of $74.2 million under the terms of the revolving credit facility, which includes borrowings of $14.0 million under the Tranche A Loan.

On August 4, 2006, we entered into the revolving credit facility, as later amended, most recently on November 3, 2016. This amendment to the revolving credit facility extended the maturity date of the revolving credit facility to July 15, 2018, reduced the revolving loan limit by $15.0 million to $335.0 million, and reduced the Tranche A Loan limit by $4.0 million to $16.0 million. Furthermore, the amendment required maintenance of a fixed charge coverage ratio of 1.2 to 1.0 in the event our excess availability falls below $32.5 million through March 31, 2017; and the amendment currently requires maintenance of an excess availability of the greater of a defined range, adjusted on a seasonal basis, of $36.0 million to $42.0 million and an amount equal to 12.5% of the lesser of (a) the sum of the borrowing base and the Tranche A Loan borrowing base or (b) the maximum credit.

The Tranche A Loan limit shall be subject to automatic commitment reductions depending on the time of year, with the balance due and payable by July 15, 2018; provided, that all scheduled commitment reductions on or after August 1, 2017, will be subject to satisfaction of certain conditions including a minimum excess availability threshold of at least $50.0 million after giving effect to any payment required after giving effect to such reduction. If a scheduled commitment reduction is prohibited due to not satisfying those conditions, the required excess availability covenant shall be increased by the amount of any such prohibited commitment reduction.

We were in compliance with all covenants under the revolving credit facility as of July 1, 2017.

Sources and Uses of Cash

Operating Activities

Net cash used in operating activities for the first six months of fiscal 2017 was $54.5 million, compared to net cash used in operating activities of $25.9 million in the first six months of fiscal 2016. Accounts receivable increased by $41.7 million during the first six months of fiscal 2017, compared to an increase of $43.0 million in the first six months of the prior fiscal year. This year-over-year comparative decrease in accounts receivable primarily was due to a decrease in overall sales due to closed distribution centers. Inventory increased by $29.4 million in the first six months of fiscal 2017, which reflects the seasonality of our business, as we enter into the historical peak selling season.

Investing Activities

Net cash provided by investing activities for the first six months of fiscal 2017 was $27.4 million compared to net cash provided by investing activities of $1.9 million in the first six months of fiscal 2016. Our cash provided by investing activities primarily was related to the sales of certain distribution facilities.

In the future, we may perform further sale and lease back transactions of certain of our owned properties.

Financing Activities

Net cash provided by financing activities of $26.3 million for the first six months of fiscal 2017, primarily reflected seasonal net borrowings on our revolving credit facility of $54.7 million, offset by principal payments on our mortgage loan of $29.0 million. We may consider further financing transactions in the future, including transactions involving our real estate. Additionally, we expect to extend or refinance the revolving credit facility.

Operating working capital is an important measurement we use to determine the efficiencies of our operations and our ability to readily convert assets into cash. Operating working capital is defined as current assets less current liabilities plus the current portion of long-term debt. Management of operating working capital helps us monitor our progress in meeting our goals to maximize our return on working capital assets.

Our operating working capital requirements reflect the seasonal nature of our business. Operating working capital of $274.7 million at July 1, 2017, compared to $220.9 million as of December 31, 2016, increased on a net basis of $53.7 million as a result of the seasonal nature of our business, which resulted in a $41.7 million increase in accounts receivable and an increase in inventory of $29.4 million, offset by an increase in accounts payable of $13.6 million. Operating working capital decreased from July 2, 2016, to July 1, 2017, by $21.6 million, primarily driven by decreases in accounts receivable of $14.1 million, which reflected the decrease in sales compared to the prior year, as a result of closures of distribution centers during fiscal 2016. Additionally, other current assets decreased by $8.3 million, primarily reflecting the removal of the net book value of “held for sale” properties, as most of our properties held for sale were sold during the period.
