MATTHEW ROSE, CHAIRMAN AND CEO OF BURLINGTON NORTHERN SANTA FE CORPORATION, IS ELECTED TO AMR'S BOARD

FORT WORTH, Texas -- Matthew K. Rose, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of Burlington Northern Santa Fe Corporation, today was elected to the Board of Directors of AMR Corporation, parent company of American Airlines.

"Matt Rose is an exceptionally capable executive who knows what it takes to win in a highly competitive, customer-focused business," said Gerard J. Arpey, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of AMR Corporation. "His knowledge and experience will become valuable assets as we continue to transform AMR and position our company for a successful and profitable future."

Rose, 45, was elected Chairman of Burlington Northern Santa Fe Corporation in March 2002 after having been President and CEO of the company since December 2000. He became President and Chief Operating Officer of BNSF, with responsibility for all operations and marketing activities, in June 1999.

Rose joined Burlington Northern Railroad in 1993 and held a number of key vice presidential positions before being named Senior Vice President-Merchandise Business Unit in May 1996. In August 1997, he was named Senior Vice President and Chief Operations Officer, responsible for coordinating transportation, maintenance, mechanical, quality, purchasing, labor relations and information services activities.

Before joining Burlington Northern, Rose was Vice President-Transportation for Triple Crown Services, a Norfolk Southern Railroad subsidiary. Prior to that, he held various positions with Schneider National and International Utilities, a trucking conglomerate. He began his railroad career in 1981 with Missouri Pacific Railroad.

Rose holds a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Missouri, where he majored in marketing and minored in logistics. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Association of American Railroads; a member of the Board of Directors of the Center for Energy & Economic Development; a member of the Texas Governor's Business Council; a National Trustee of the Boys & Girls Clubs of America; a member of Northwestern University Transportation Center's Business Advisory Committee; a member of Business Roundtable; a member of The Business Council; a member of the Board of Trustees of Texas Christian University; a member of the Board of National Association of Manufacturers, and a member of the Boy Scouts of America National Executive Board.

Rose and his wife have two children and live in Westlake, Texas.
