Item 2.05 Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities

On October 22, 2012, Dominion Resources, Inc. (Dominion) issued a press release announcing its decision to permanently cease generation operations at Kewaunee power station in 2013 and commence decommissioning of the facility. Kewaunee is a 556 megawatt nuclear facility located in Carlton, Wisconsin, on Lake Michigan approximately 35 miles southeast of Green Bay. This decision was approved by Dominion's Board of Directors on October 18, 2012. The decision is subject to review for reliability impacts by Midwest Independent Transmission System Operator, Inc., the regional transmission organization.

In April 2011, Dominion announced it would pursue a sale of the facility since it was not able to move forward with its original plan to grow its nuclear fleet in the Midwest to take advantage of economies of scale. Dominion has been unable to find a buyer for the facility. In addition, the power purchase agreements for the two utilities that contract to buy Kewaunee's generation will expire in December 2013 at a time of projected low wholesale electricity prices in the region. The combination of these factors made it uneconomic for Kewaunee to continue operations.

As a result of this decision, Dominion will recognize estimated after-tax charges of $281 million, which will be reported in third quarter 2012 earnings. This largely reflects a non-cash charge for the impairment of Kewaunee's assets, as well as an after-tax charge of $16 million related to future severance payments.

In addition to these initial charges, Dominion anticipates recording additional after-tax charges related to the exit plan of approximately $30 million. These charges primarily reflect expected employee retention costs.

Dominion believes that the amounts currently available in Kewaunee's decommissioning trust and their expected earnings will be sufficient to cover expected decommissioning costs.

The information set forth in this Current Report on Form 8-K includes certain "forward-looking information". Examples include information as to our expectations, beliefs, plans, goals, objectives and future financial or other performance or assumptions concerning matters discussed in this Report. Factors that could cause actual results to differ from those in the forward-looking statements may accompany the statements themselves. In addition, our business is influenced by many factors that are difficult to predict, involve uncertainties that may materially affect actual results and are often beyond our ability to control or estimate precisely, such as fluctuations in the value of assets held in our decommissioning trusts, the risk associated with the operation of nuclear facilities, fluctuations in energy-related commodity prices, additional competition in electric markets in which our merchant generation facilities operate and state and federal legislative and regulatory developments. We have identified and will in the future identify a number of these factors in our SEC Reports on Forms 10-K and 10-Q. We refer you to those discussions for further information. Any forward-looking statement speaks only as of the date on which it is made, and we undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances after the date on which it is made.
