A report on the SEC regulatory process for Chevron/Unocal merger

As we've previously reported to employees, one of the major milestones to completing the Chevron merger involves filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). Chevron must file a registration statement to issue the shares of its common stock that are part of the merger consideration. The registration statement contains a proxy statement for the special meeting of Unocal stockholders to vote on the merger.

Earlier today, Chevron filed its preliminary registration statement on SEC Form S-4. It contains required information about the proposed merger and the merger agreement and other information for Unocal stockholders in connection with their voting decision and exchange of Unocal stock in the merger. To view this document, click here: Chevron S-4 Filing.

As a result of SEC review, Chevron's registration statement may be amended one or more times and these amendments would also be filed with the SEC. It is difficult to predict at this stage how long the SEC review process may take. After SEC review is completed, the final document will contain Chevron's prospectus and Unocal's proxy statement. The final Chevron prospectus/Unocal proxy statement would be printed and mailed to Unocal stockholders in advance of the special stockholders meeting to vote on the merger. (The transaction does not require the approval of Chevron stockholders.)

Assuming the satisfactory resolution of regulatory processes with the SEC and the Federal Trade Commission, the approval of the merger by our stockholders and the satisfaction of other customary closing conditions, we continue to anticipate that the transaction will be completed at some point before the end of this year.
