INDEPENDENCE OF DIRECTORS

Companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") must comply with certain standards regarding corporate governance, as codified in Section 303A of the Listed Company Manual of the NYSE, with some exceptions. A company of which more than 50% of the voting power is held by an individual, a group or another company need not comply with the requirements of Sections 303A.01 Independent Directors, 303A.04 Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee or 303A.05 Compensation Committee. Robert F. Weis, Chairman of the Board, and Ellen W. Wasserman, his sister, control 57.9% of the voting power. The Company does not have a majority of independent Directors. The Audit Committee reviewed with the independent auditors, who are responsible for expressing an opinion on the conformity of those audited financial statements with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, their judgments as to the quality, not just the acceptability, of the Company's accounting principles and such other matters as are required to be discussed with the Committee under generally accepted auditing standards. BOARD COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors believes that the primary objective of the Company's executive compensation policies should be to attract and retain qualified executives, which is critical to the ongoing success of the Company. The executive compensation program is based upon factors that are subjective in nature and are in the best interests of the Company and ultimately the shareholders. The Committee's primary objective is achieved by providing appropriate compensation and incentives that are competitive with executives at selected peer companies of comparable size and position in the retail business, while keeping compensation in line with the financial objectives of the Company. The Compensation Committee recognizes the fact that the Company is engaged in a highly competitive industry and thus annually examines market compensation levels and trends in the labor market.

The Compensation Committee revised the Company's compensation program in 2001 based upon the recommendations from a consulting firm specializing in executive compensation, and implemented an annual bonus plan to reward certain key employees, including its executive officers. Bonus potentials are established by level within the Company, and actual payouts are based on achievement of sales and operating profit targets.

Based on subjective and qualitative considerations, which include the overall financial and operational success of the Company, the Committee approved the continuation of the Chairman's and the President/CEO's base salary in fiscal 2003. Bonus amounts paid in 2003, as reflected in the "Summary Compensation Table," were earned in 2002. The Chairman and the President/CEO earned 49.3% of their total bonus potential in 2002 and have earned 35.0% in 2003, which will be paid in 2004.

With the Chairman of the Board and President/CEO, the Committee subjectively evaluates the performance of senior management. The Compensation Committee relies upon written and verbal evaluations, provided by the Chairman of the Board and President/CEO, of each executive's performance for the most recent fiscal year. In addition, senior management is orally evaluated by the President/CEO as to their efforts and accomplishments throughout the period from information deemed relevant both internally and in light of the competitive position of the Company in the industry. These evaluations include qualitative factors such as the individuals' decision-making responsibilities, the professional experience required to perform given tasks, and their leadership and team-building skills. Although executive base compensation is not specifically related to corporate performance, the overall performance of the Company is a consideration in determining executive compensation. The Chairman of the Board and President/CEO reported that the executives substantially met their objectives during the most recent fiscal year.

Employment and Severance Agreements. The Compensation Committee notes that the President/CEO has an employment agreement through 2006 and the Senior Vice President and Treasurer/CFO has an employment agreement with the Company through 2007. These agreements specify the terms of employment, including pay factors. The agreements provide that employment shall be at will, but if employment is terminated without cause, or the executive resigns for good reason, the executive shall receive his remaining salary and all benefits payable under the agreement. The agreements include a covenant not to compete clause, which is limited by time and geography.

Respectfully submitted by the Compensation Committee,

Michael M. Apfelbaum, Committee Chairman
Richard E. Shulman
Steven C. Smith

The Company maintains a non-qualified supplemental retirement plan for the payment of specific amounts of annual retirement benefits to certain officers or their beneficiaries over an actuarially computed normal life expectancy. The benefits are determined through actuarial calculations dependent on the age of the recipient. The benefit payable on an annual basis to Robert F. Weis would be $657,960 if he had retired as of the date of this Proxy.

The Company also maintains a second non-qualified supplemental retirement plan for certain of its associates. This plan is designed to provide retirement benefits and salary deferral opportunities because of the limitations imposed by the Internal Revenue Code and the Regulations implemented by the Internal Revenue Service. Participants in this plan are excluded from participation in the Profit Sharing and Employee Stock

Bonus plans. The Board of Directors annually determines the amount of the allocation to the plan at its sole discretion. The allocation among the various plan participants is made in relationship to their compensation, years of service and job performance. Plan participants are 100% vested in their accounts after seven years of service with the Company. Benefits are distributed among participants upon reaching the applicable retirement age. Substantial risk of benefit forfeiture does exist for participants in this plan.

AUDIT COMMITTEE CHARTER

I. Purpose

The primary objective of the Audit Committee is to assist the Board in fulfilling its oversight responsibilities with respect to (a) the financial statements and other financial information provided by the Company to its stockholders, the public and others, (b) the Company's compliance with legal and regulatory requirements, (c) the independent auditors' qualifications and independence and (d) the performance of the Company's internal audit function and independent auditors.

Although the Audit Committee has the powers and responsibilities set forth in this Charter, the role of the Audit Committee is oversight. The members of the Audit Committee are not full-time employees of the Company and may or may not be accountants or auditors by profession or experts in the fields of accounting or auditing and, in any event, do not serve the Company in such capacity. Consequently, it is not the duty of the Audit Committee to conduct audits or to determine that the Company's financial statements and disclosures are complete and accurate and are in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and applicable rules and regulations. These are the responsibilities of management and the independent auditors.

II. Organization

The Audit Committee shall consist of three or more directors, each of whom shall satisfy the independence, financial literacy and experience requirements of Section 10A of the Securities Exchange Act and the rules promulgated thereunder, the New York Stock Exchange and any other regulatory requirements, and at least one of whom shall have been determined by the Board to be an "audit committee financial expert" as defined under rules promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The members of the Audit Committee shall be appointed by the Board. The Audit Committee may form and delegate authority to subcommittees when appropriate.

III. Meetings

The Audit Committee shall meet at least four times per year on a quarterly basis, or more frequently as circumstances require. As part of its job to foster open communication, the Audit Committee shall meet at least quarterly with management, the chief internal auditor and the independent auditors in separate executive sessions to discuss any matters that the Audit Committee or each of these groups believe should be discussed privately.

IV. Authority and Responsibilities

In recognition of the fact that the independent auditors are ultimately accountable to the Audit Committee, the Audit Committee shall have the sole authority and responsibility to select, evaluate and, where appropriate, replace the independent auditors (or to nominate the independent auditors for stockholder approval), and shall approve all audit engagement fees and terms and all non-audit engagements with the independent auditors. The Audit Committee shall consult with management and the internal audit group but shall not delegate these responsibilities.

To fulfill its responsibilities, the Audit Committee shall:

With respect to the independent auditors:

1. Be directly responsible for the appointment, compensation, retention and oversight of the work of the independent auditors (including resolution of disagreements between management and the independent auditors regarding financial reporting) for the purpose of preparing or issuing an audit report or related work or performing other audit, review or attest services for the company. The independent auditors must report directly to the Audit Committee.
2. Have the sole authority to review in advance, and grant any appropriate pre-approvals, of (a) all auditing, review or attest services to be provided by the independent auditors and (b) all non-audit services to be provided by the independent auditors as permitted by Section 10A of the Securities Exchange Act and the rules promulgated thereunder, and, in connection therewith, to approve all fees and other terms of engagement. The Audit Committee shall also consider establishing pre-approval policies and procedures as well as review and approve disclosures required to be included in Securities and Exchange Commission periodic reports filed under Section 13(a) of the Securities Exchange Act with respect to non-audit services.
3. Review on an annual basis the performance of the independent auditors, including the lead audit partner.
4. Ensure that the independent auditors submit to the Audit Committee on an annual basis a written statement consistent with Independent Standards Board Standard No. 1, discuss with the independent auditors any disclosed relationships, compensation arrangements or services that may impact the objectivity and independence of the independent auditors and satisfy itself as to the independent auditors' independence.
5. At least annually, obtain and review an annual report from the independent auditors describing (a) the independent auditors' internal quality control procedures and (b) any material issues raised by the most recent internal quality control review, or peer review, of the independent auditors, or by any inquiry or investigation by governmental or professional authorities, within the preceding five years, respecting one or more independent audits carried out by the independent auditors, and any steps taken to deal with any such issues.
6. Confirm that (a) the lead audit partner and the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has not performed audit services for the Company in each of the five previous fiscal years, and (b) each audit partner, other than the lead audit and concurring partners, has not performed audit services for the Company in each of the seven previous fiscal years. Consider whether, in order to assure continuing auditor independence, it is appropriate to adopt a policy of rotating the independent auditors on a regular basis.
7. Review, at least once prior to the filing of the audit report with the Securities and Exchange Commission, all reports required to be submitted by the independent auditors to the Audit Committee under Section 10A of the Securities Exchange Act and the rules promulgated thereunder, including (a) all critical accounting policies and practices used by the Company, (b) all alternative accounting treatments of financial information within GAAP related to material items that have been discussed with management of the Company, including the ramification of the use of such alternative treatments and disclosures and the treatment preferred by the independent auditors, and (c) other material written communications between the independent auditors and management of the Company, including management representation letters, reports on observations and recommendations on internal controls, schedules of material adjustments and reclassifications proposed, and a listing of adjustments and reclassifications not recorded, if any, engagement letters and independence letters.
