First instance decision regarding special participation differences for the Marlim field

(Rio de Janeiro, July 7, 2008) PETRÓLEO BRASILEIRO S/A - PETROBRAS, [Bovespa: PETR3/PETR4, NYSE: PBR/PBRA, Latibex: XPBR/XPBRA, BCBA: APBR/APBRA], a Brazilian international energy company, announces first instance decision handed down regarding the court injunction in which Petrobras pleaded for the suspension of the undue collection, by the National Petroleum Agency (ANP), of special participation differences for the Marlim field.

Giving continuity to the announcement made to the market on 06/06/08, Petrobras announces the first instance decision has been handed down for the court injunction it filed against the ANP.

The sentence was not favorable for Petrobras plea. The judge of the 30th Federal Court of Rio de Janeiro decided to revoke the preliminary order that had been previously granted and to deny the injunction the Company had petitioned for.

Petrobras maintains its understanding that the collections made as special participation for the Marlim field were always based on the methodology sanctioned by the ANP itself and on a legally legitimate interpretation of art. 18, XVI, of ANP administrative rule 10/1999. For this reason, confronted with possible threat of damage to its rights and to the interests of its shareholders, it petitioned for the court injunction.

Faced with this fact, PETROBRAS also announces it will file the appropriate appeal considering the decision of first instance.
