Strike in the Campos Basin

(Rio de Janeiro, July 14, 2008) PETRÓLEO BRASILEIRO S/A - PETROBRAS, [Bovespa: PETR3/PETR4, NYSE: PBR/PBRA, Latibex: XPBR/XPBRA, BCBA: APBR/APBRA], a Brazilian international energy company, announces with respect to the strike in the Campos Basin, initiated today, that:

- It has activated its Contingency Plan to ensure the operational continuity of the company, the safety of its operations and the supply of the market.
- Out of a total of 38 production platforms in the Campos Basin, only two are completely idle. Up to noon today, output was down by 136 thousand barrels/day (about 7% of Brazilian output), with no impact on fuel supplies to the consumer.
- The drilling platforms are working normally.
- On Saturday, before the labor stoppage began at the turn of midnight this Monday, the Rio de Janeiro Regional Labor Court issued an injunction in favor of Petrobras, determining that the installations could not be occupied, that the striking employees should disembark and that those wishing to work should be free to access the installations.
- Company management would particularly like to point out that the negotiating table remains the most appropriate medium for maintaining a good working relationship between the company, its workforce and the labor unions.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This press release may contain forward-looking statements. These statements are statements that are not historical facts, and are based on management's current view and estimates of future economic circumstances, industry conditions, company performance and financial results. The words "anticipates", "believes", "estimates", "expects", "plans" and similar expressions, as they relate to the company, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Statements regarding the declaration or payment of dividends, the implementation of principal operating and financing strategies and capital expenditure plans, the direction of future operations and the factors or trends affecting financial condition, liquidity or results of operations are examples of forward-looking statements. Such statements reflect the current views of management and are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties. There is no guarantee that the expected events, trends or results will actually occur. The statements are based on many assumptions and factors, including general economic and market conditions, industry conditions, and operating factors. Any changes in such assumptions or factors could cause actual results to differ materially from current expectations.
